

The world's running out of oil.

Some nations are dividing up what's left.

Right or wrong
doesn't come into it.

We're acting out of necessity.

The Paris Climate agreement requires action, asap.

Two things are infinite: the universe and human stupidity; and I'm not sure about the universe.

Is nature stupid as well, because it does not know, whether CO<sub>2</sub> is released from incineration of fossils or renewables.

Everything should be made as simple as possible, but not simpler.

Sometimes one pays most for the things one gets for nothing.

- The first ever Powerier/Power plant
  - Powers anywhere and anytime
    - On/off-peak
      - Unlike solar, wind, wave/tidal etc.

- Exploits fundamental force, exclusively
  - Ultimate efficiency/performance
    - No purchased energy
  - No fuel/feedstock supply
  - Emission-free
  - Any time
    - Infinite
  - Anywhere
    - On ground, underground, underwater
- Disruptive
- Unlimited scalability
- Autonomic
- Highly secured
  - Fully packaged/closed-loop
    - No environmental/societal impacts
    - Remote monitoring/automation
- No power storage
- Lifespan 100 years
- Short payback
  - Due to low operational and investment cost
- Low life cycle costs
- Ideal for remote off-grid solutions
- Zero or low property/real estate tax
- No sacrifices
  - Unlike James Watts' invention
